I want to welcome our new OLAVs. We have recently held two face-to-face training classes and added 15 new volunteers. Thank you to our Board President Matt Vogt, for coaching these sessions.

This January, I attended the Operation Lifesaver State Coordinator Summit in Salt Lake City. It was my first chance to meet the staff from the national office as well as other State Coordinators. The theme of the conference was “Safety Elevated”. Much of the discussion centered around the new State Partnership Agreement. At the time of the conference, all but nine states had signed the agreement. Detailed sessions were conducted about grant application strategies, fundraising, marketing, and volunteer training. Panel discussions were held with railroad and AASHTO representatives. Great things are happening with OLI across the country and much of it would translate well to Kansas. I hope to move forward with some new concepts soon.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (February 7, 2019) – Millions of Americans will learn more about staying safe near trains from Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI) thanks to a generous donation from the Posner Foundation of Pittsburgh.

OLI is the only national nonprofit organization dedicated to saving lives by empowering the public to make safer choices near tracks and trains.

The funds will support four projects.

OLI will work with outside experts to understand, and appropriately communicate, suicide prevention initiatives. The goal is to effectively communicate about the sensitive subject with the public, partners and the media. The nonprofit will leverage the Federal Railroad Administration’s Trespass and Suicide Dashboard to target locations throughout the United States and tailor prevention messages to those communities.

Henry Posner III, chairman of the Iowa Interstate Railroad and Railroad Development Corporation and a trustee of the Posner Foundation of Pittsburgh, stated that the Posner Foundation was proud to support the work of OLI in both its traditional goals of reducing fatalities and injuries at highway-rail grade crossings and on railroad rights-of-way, and the emerging field of suicide prevention.

The grant also funds the distribution of a public service announcement (PSA) about Emergency Notification System signs. The campaign will alert Americans to the existence of the newer, blue and white, signs posted at railroad crossings. They’re designed to help those experiencing emergencies at railroad crossings. The signs offer a phone number to call to reach railroad dispatchers, as well as location information, so approaching trains may be stopped. The PSA will be digitally distributed to news outlets throughout the country.

Other projects supported by the gift include additional resources for a competitive grant program that funds public education activities conducted by Operation Lifesaver State Programs and a new program to further support rail safety volunteer efforts throughout the United States.

“New” Initiative

We Need Your Help

KS OL is attempting to reach photographers in a new way. We are attempting to reach out to photographers that are leaders in their area. In hopes that they will help influence their smaller competition by example.

What we are asking from our volunteers is information. Please email us the names of the big photographers in your area, specifically those that do senior pictures, wedding photos, and other outdoor settings.

Please email Jessica at jmays@kscapitol.com with these names.
